Subject: American Changer Purchases Assets of Triad Design Group Incorporated

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: American Changer Corporation announced today the finalization of an Asset Purchase Agreement with Triad Design Group Incorporated, a manufacturer of Self-Serve Money Changers servicing a variety of industries.

Triad's culture of providing high quality products and services, along with developing long-term relationships with customers, supports American Changer's continued growth plan and accelerates innovative product development. This strategic Asset Purchase Agreement allows customers to benefit from increased resources and shared knowledge.

Products and parts for TRIAD changers will continue to be sold under the Triad tradename, which has been associated with developing products to meet customer needs and filling gaps in the marketplace. Triad's principal owner, Mr. Chuck White, will join the American Changer team as National Accounts Manager following a brief transitional period. In his role as National Accounts Manager, Mr. White will focus on several projects which include ensuring relationship continuity with Triad customers, sales growth in new and existing markets, and product development.

Products and services will be provided from American Changer's manufacturing and corporate center in Fort Lauderdale, Florida USA. The absorption of TRIAD's product line into American Changer's expanding portfolio will be supported by American Changer's dedicated and experienced team members.

The acquisition unites three of the most reputable brands of money changers in the world – Triad, Rowe and American Changer – and reinforces American Changer's vision to remain at the forefront of ingenuity.
